Project	Report
Europaediatrics 2009	The Conference takes place in Moscow on July 3-6, 2009. A preliminary scientific programme is now available on the websites www.europaediatrics2009.org and www.europaediatrics2009.ru . On line abstract submissions and registration are also available through both sites. The deadline for abstract submission is April 10 th , 2009 and for early registration is May 1 st , 2009.
Official Journal of EPA/UNEPSA	As of the beginning of March, EPA/UNEPSA will have its official scientific Journal; the "Evidence-Based Child Health: A Cochrane Review Journal". This comes as a result with an agreement with Cochrane Collaboration and J. Wiley & Sons Publishers/Blackwell Publishing. The electronic Journal is published quarterly and the access is complimentary until the end of 2009 for all members of national associations that participate in EPA/UNEPSA.
EPA/UNEPSA Newsletter	The first issue of the EPA/UNEPSA Newsletter was launched at the end of January. The electronic document includes news of the association's activities, news and information from the national paediatric associations, updates on scientific issues and calendar of events. It will be a quarterly publication targeting all individual members of the national paediatric associations.
